

2.297"

The image shows a technical drawing of a curved component. A vertical dimension line on the left side, with arrows at both ends, indicates a height of 2.297 inches. The component has a curved outer profile and a more complex inner profile with several straight and curved segments. The drawing is rendered in red lines on a white background.